TO BRING CONTEST

COMMITTEE SO RECOMMENDED TO THE NOMINEES.

FUNDS TO BE RAISED

To Carry Out Plans—Judges Picked to Supervise Proposed Inquiries.

(St. Louis Republic.)

The Democratic state committee Wednesday adopted resolutions at a meeting at the Southern hotel recommending that contests be instituted by the Democratic nominees for the four state offices voted on at the recent election, including supreme judgeships.

The committee also urged that contest proceedings be brought before the next congress by the Democratic nominees in the three congressional districts of St. Louis, including the Tenth district, represented by Dr. Richard Bartholdt, and which he carried at the last election by more than 25,000.

The Democratic nominees for state senate in the St. Louis districts and for the lower branch of the legislature in the city of St. Louis and St. Louis county also are importuned by the committee to contest the seats of their Republican opponents in the next general assembly.

The resolutions were approved after the committee had considered every phase of the charges that the Republicans carried St. Louis on November 8 by fraudulent tactics.

The party leaders acted with deliberation, and did not decide to act until convinced that there was a tangible basis for every contest suggested.

The resolutions contain a proviso that sufficient funds be pledged to defray the probable cost of the contests. A committee, composed of members from each congressional district of the state, with Edward F. Geltra of St. Louis chairman, was chosen to raise the money with which to prosecute the suits.

The resolutions adopted follow:

Resolved, first, That it is the sense of the Democratic state central committee that the Democratic candidates for state offices at the late state election institute contest proceedings and prosecute the same, provided that sufficient funds are pledged and secured to cover the probable expenses of such contests.

Resolved, second, That it is the sense of the Democratic state central committee that the Democratic candidates for representative from the city of St. Louis and from St. Louis county in the general assembly, and candidates for the state senate from St. Louis should institute contests before the house of representatives and prosecute the same to a final conclusion before that body.

Resolved, third, That it is the sense of the Democratic state central committee that the three Democratic candidates for congress in the Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth congressional districts should institute contests before the house of representatives of the sixty-second congress and prosecute the same to a final conclusion before that body.

Resolved, fourth, That the chairman of the Democratic state central committee appoint a committee of one from each congressional district in the state for the purpose of raising the funds necessary to carry on the contests proposed in the first resolution above mentioned, and that said committee be and is hereby authorized to add such others to the committee as may be deemed necessary to expedite the work hereby committed to them, and report the results of the efforts of such committee on or about the first day of January, 1911, to the chairman of the Democratic state committee.

It was agreed by the committee that former Supreme Judges William C. Marshall of St. Louis and W. M. Williams of Booneville should represent the four contestants for state offices and also generally supervise all of the other contests that the candidates may decide to bring.

The contests for two supreme judgeships and for state superintendent of public schools will be brought before the supreme court. The contest for railroad and warehouse commissioner in all probability will have to be considered by the legislature, inasmuch as there is no law stipulating in what manner a dispute over the latter office may be settled.

Dr. Miller of Hopkins spent Thursday forenoon in Maryville with his brother, Dr. Jesse Miller.

Mrs. E. C. Wolfers, Sr., and her daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Donlin, of Hopkins, spent Thursday in Maryville shopping and calling on friends.

MEEK HAS OPENED BUSINESS COLLEGE

Prof. George H. Meek has opened a business college in Stanberry. The Stanberry Herald of this week had the following to say: "Prof. Meek opened up his business college this week. He has rooms over the Norman store and is nicely located. He has met with some encouragement and it is hoped that it will prove a success."

TO MEET MONDAY EVE

MEETING OF BALL FANS CALLED FOR THAT EVENING.

ANNUAL MEETING DEC. 9

At Nebraska City—Maryville Will Go After the Secretaryship of the League.

The baseball directors had a supper at Reuiliard's cafe Wednesday night, attended by L. C. Cook, John Murrin, E. H. Bainum, W. J. Hutton, R. G. Koch, Edward Williams, Fred Hull and James Todd. A nice supper in five courses was served, and it was given for the purpose of deciding on some action for baseball for next year.

It was decided on by the directors to call a mass meeting of the fans for next Monday evening, December 5, in the Commercial club rooms for the purpose of seeing if Maryville wants league ball next year, and to decide on a representative to the annual league meeting to be held in Nebraska City, Neb., on Friday, December 9. The meeting will be called Monday for 7:30 o'clock, and it is hoped that a large number of fans will attend.

If Maryville wants to still retain her franchise in the Mink league it will be necessary that $200 be guaranteed to the league that she will play during the season of 1911. This amount will have to be raised or subscribed before next Friday.

The ball directors here will go after the secretaryship of the Mink league. The name of Fred Hull, editor of the Tribune, has been mentioned, and he stands a good show to land the place.

It is probable that Maryville will have Sunday baseball next year. It is impossible to make the season a financial success at all unless they have Sunday ball.

STATE HEALTH BOARD SAYS IT'S SMALLPOX

Dr. Vilas Martin, county physician, received a phone message Wednesday night from a representative of the Iowa state board of health, saying that the epidemic at Braddyville, Ia., has been carefully examined into by the state board physicians, and that they have pronounced each case that of a fully developed case of smallpox, and that there is no doubt as to the disease in the minds of these physicians. They have placed a rigid quarantine over all those who have the disease and are endeavoring to quarantine all who have been exposed.

There are two new cases near Clearmont, in Nodaway county, in the same family where it has existed the past two weeks. Dr. Martin is taking great pains to see to it that there will be no spread of the disease, and he has hearty commendation of all in the county.

Mrs. C. Bremer and daughter Clara Bremer of Parnell, arrived in Maryville Wednesday.

NOT FILED AS YET

OFFICERS ARE STILL WORKING ON RASCO CASE.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS

Rasco Seems to Be in Good Spirits and is Receiving Many Callers.

Prosecuting Attorney Wiles has not yet filed the information against Hez Rasco. Mr. Wiles, when talking to a reporter for this paper Wednesday, said that he thought the information would be filed probably on Thursday, but a change in the program of the prosecutor was made. It is probable that an information will be filed, but how soon we were unable to ascertain.

Rasco's preliminary hearing will be held within the ten days' limit after the information is filed. No one will know when the hearing will be had, except the officials here, and that the time will be kept a secret is admitted by them.

The St. Joseph Gazette had the following in Thursday's issue:

Rasco is said by those at the county jail to be taking his confinement easily and to be in good spirits despite the heavy charge and probable fate that awaits him when his case comes to trial. So far Rasco's family seem to have deserted him, none but his half-sister among his many relatives having come from Guilford to see him. His aged grandfather resides in Barnard. Up to this time Rasco has made no effort to secure legal aid except to ask a certain St. Joseph lawyer to visit him in jail. The request was ignored on the ground that circumstantial evidence points Rasco out as the murderer of the Hubbell family, and the attorney said yesterday that he did not care to defend a man whose past record was as bad as that of Rasco's.

FIRE AT DR. BROWN'S HOME TUESDAY

The roof on the residence of Dr. W. H. Brown, at 211 West Third street, was discovered on fire at 7:30 o'clock Thursday morning by passersby. The alarm was given and when the fire company arrived it looked as though they would have a hard fight to keep it from spreading to the residences in that closely settled district, with the J. C. Denham saddlery and carriage house and Dr. Nash's office and residence on one side and the Christian church, Dr. J. H. Todd's residence and the McNeal-Parcher lumber yard on the other. But the wind was favorable for all but the burning house, so the fire company gave full attention to it.

The fire caught at the south end of the roof from dropping cinders and spread rapidly, so that it was burned clear off and all of the attic ruined. The first and second floors of the house were badly damaged by smoke and water.

The furniture was all removed, but was damaged, of course. The furniture was insured. The house is owned by A. T. Stephenson of South Main street, and was insured for $600. The loss is about $900. The residence will be repaired as soon as possible. Dr. Brown and his family were invited to the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Todd for breakfast, which had been so badly interfered with at their own home, and they were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Denham.

Dr. Brown has leased the residence of T. W. Costello, on West Thompson street, and will again be nicely and comfortably situated by Friday.

Mrs. Kate Francisco of Kansas City was in Maryville on business Thursday forenoon. Mrs. Francisco has been at the home of her brother, Nicholas Thull, of near Pickering for the past three weeks, attending to affairs at the farm, because of the illness of Mr. and Mrs. Thull's son, Ernest Thull, at St. Francis hospital. The young man is slowly recovering from a serious illness of typhoid fever and will soon be removed to the home of Gold L. and Mrs. R. F. Hamblin, on North street, where he will remain.

The Thull family lives on Mrs. Thull's farm, near Pickering.

Anna Graham of Clyde, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. T. returned to her home Thursday.

IS STILL GRINDING

A LARGE NUMBER OF CASES DISPOSED OF.

BANKRUPT CASE TODAY

Jury in Weatherman Case Finds for the Plaintiff in the Sum of $635.

The case of Ida Weatherman vs. the John V. Weatherman estate, was given to the jury Wednesday afternoon, and their verdict was for the plaintiff for $635. The case came to circuit court on an appeal from the probate court. The plaintiff was suing the estate for services rendered during the sickness of Mr. Weatherman.

Wilford B. Medes vs. Southwestern Lumber and Timber company, on an attachment, was dismissed.

A. O. Mason vs. O. K. Herndon, appeal from justice court, was continued.

Tessie M. Vaughn vs. Jeremiah Vaughn et al., to cancel trust deed, was continued.

Jacob W. Wiley vs. John N. Liscomb et al., perfect title; defendant defaulted, and court gave decree vesting title to the plaintiff.

George W. Workman vs. Charles D. Black, to revive judgment; cause continued for want of service.

Jessie L. Goodwine vs. Harry Goodwine, divorce; motion for temporary alimony was sustained and $200 given.

Thursday the case of James J. Garth, trustee of the estate of Erasmus Colter, bankrupt, vs. the Farmers and Merchants bank of Elmo, equity in bankruptcy, was tried before a jury in circuit court. There are two other cases brought by Mr. Garth, one against Frank Schaffer, and one against William Colter.

LAST REGULAR SESSION OF PRESENT COURT

County court will meet in regular session next Monday. This will be the last regular session of the present county court, as the new members of the court that were elected in November will take their places on January 1. They are Presiding Judge Thornhill, J. O. Thompson, from the south district, and William Blackford, from the north district.

Mrs. James D. Rice and little daughter, Bessie, living south of the city, went to Pickering Thursday on a visit with Robert Rice and family.

Mrs. E. L. Ferritor and children, Donald and Mary, went to Clyde Thursday to spend the day with Mrs. Ferritor's sister, Mrs. T. F. Merrigan.

CHRISTIAN LADIES BAZAAR IN PROGRESS

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Christian church have beautified the parlors of the church with the many lovely and useful articles they have made for their Christmas bazaar, as they call it, as every article is fit for a Christmas present. The bazaar opened Thursday morning and will continue until Friday night.

The booth where the comforts and quilts are, and they are in the daintiest colors and made the fluffiest and softest one could desire, is in charge of Mrs. A. C. Hopkins, Mrs. W. W. Glass, Mrs. B. E. Condon and Mrs. R. A. Strawbridge. One nice looking white quilt is contributed to this booth by the New Way Quilting company.

The apron booth is very attractive, because aprons, you know, can be made in so many ways to be useful, dainty and sweet. One right new novelty in the apron line is a tourist apron. This booth is presided over by Mrs. Joseph B. Johnston, Mrs. C. O. Turner, Mrs. Robinson Craven and Mrs. M. D. Henderson.

If you need a pretty, useful or desirable bag for any purpose whatever, you will find them at the bag booth, and your taste will surely be gratified, for they are as nice and pretty and nifty as one could imagine. Mrs. R. L. McDougal, Mrs. R. E. Snodgrass, Mrs. Barton Cook and Mrs. R. E. Thomas have the management of this booth.

Mrs. J. B. Robinson, Mrs. O. W. Swinford, Mrs. Lincoln Bent and Mrs. Henry Westfall are in charge of the linen booth, which will attract every lady who wishes beautiful things for her bed, dresser and dining room. A beautifully embroidered towel by Mrs. Elizabeth Jester, who is 84 years old, is shown. Mrs. Jester also knitted some lace for pillow cases that is on sale.

The antique room is a special feature of the bazaar, and is in charge of Mrs. William Wallis, Sr., Mrs. L. A. Allender, Mrs. George Pat Wright, Mrs. L. O. Bricker and Mrs. William Wallis, Jr. In the display are a bed spread 150 years old, a pen wiper 150 years old, a clock 92 years old, a pipe from Egypt 1,000 years old, a dictionary 115 years old, bed linens 250 years old, and a hand-made corset 92 years old that was made by the mother of Mrs. Wallis, Sr.

The market booth, where all good things to eat will be sold, is in charge of Mrs. J. R. Brink, Mrs. J. D. Frank, Mrs. W. A. Miller and Mrs. Andy W. A. Miller, Mrs. A. W. Hawkins, Mrs. Albert Swain and Mrs. G. L. Whitley.

The candy booth will be in charge of Mrs. J. D. Richey, Mrs. Howard McCommon and Mrs. G. B. Roseberry.

Oysters will be served Thursday evening by Mrs. A. J. Anderson, Mrs. A. S. Robey, Mrs. Henry Trullinger. Ice cream and cake will be served by Mrs. P. P. Reuiliard, Mrs. J. E. Melvin, Mrs. A. L. Nash, Mrs. Harve Booth and Mrs. J. S. Shinabargar.

ESTATE DIVIDED UP

ROBINSON ESTATE DIVISION IS MADE THIS WEEK.

WORTH ABOUT $800,000

By Far the Largest Estate in Nodaway County—Many Acres of Land.

A division of the real estate property, including town lots and farms of the T. L. Robinson estate was made this week by the heirs of the estate, or Mrs. T. L. Robinson, James B. Robinson, F. P. Robinson and Miss Jennie I. Robinson. The Robinson estate is the largest one in the county or this part of the state, and for some time a division of the property has been agreed on, but was never carried out until this week. The property has always been held in common by the heirs.

To divide the property equally among the four heirs was the hardest problem that was considered. An appraisement of all the land and town lots was made, and it was then divided equally among the four.

The value of all the property that was divided is estimated to be worth $800,000, there being about 3,276 acres of land in Nodaway county, land in Gentry county and in Kansas, and town lots and property in Maryville.

In Nodaway county the land was divided as follows: James B. Robinson, 1,266 acres; F. P. Robinson, 887 acres; Miss Jennie Robinson, 630 acres, and Mrs. T. L. Robinson, 500 acres. Also each received their proportionate share of property in Maryville and other places.

The papers transferring the property to each one individually from the estate were drawn up by M. A. Peery, abstractor.

CANDIDATES FILING EXPENSES OF CAMPAIGN

Two candidates' affidavits of expenses in the last campaign were filed in the recorder's office Thursday. Judge W. H. Conn, who was re-elected probate judge, spent $138.81, $75 of this amount going to the Republican county committee, $52.31 for printing and $11.50 for cigars.

Charles Griffey, defeated candidate for county clerk, spent $114.50, $100 going to the Republican county committee.

George Pat Wright, successful candidate for prosecuting attorney, spent $93.50 in the campaign, $31 being spent in the primary election campaign.

Miss Nellie O'Connor returned to her home with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Callahan, near Arkoe, Thursday morning. Miss O'Connor has been attending the State Normal since the first of September. She will return to her school work here the first of the year.

Mrs. B. F. Hildreth went to Savannah Thursday morning to spend the day with her son, J. A. Hildreth, and family.

CHARITY BOARD NEEDS SOME HELP

The Maryville charity board—Mrs. G. A. Nash, Mrs. A. R. Perrin and Mrs. J. S. Shinabargar—has nothing with which to relieve the need of a family that has never found it necessary to seek help before. But circumstances forced them to ask for aid Wednesday night. The mother, a medium sized woman is in need of clothing also her 17-year-old boy, large for his age.

The charity board is also in need of underwear for a large woman, advanced in years, who has no means of support.

Anyone having clothing that will be of good use to these needy people will render the board a great service by sending it to any member of the board, who are being appealed to daily for something for worthy poor people.

Rev. J. T. McDonald of the Orphans' Home society of St. Joseph is in Maryville on business.

Mr. and Mrs. John Holtman, Sr., and John Holtman, Jr., of Conception Junction were in Maryville Wednesday.

Miss Austie Cowen of Hopkins returned to her work at the State Normal Wednesday morning.

First Showing of

For The Tiny Folks and The Big Girls

Hundreds of Sizes and Styles
And All Popularly Priced

Some that are small, others that are large some that talk, cry, sleep, in fact do anything but eat, make up the selection of dolls that we have for Christmas. Bisque dolls, kid dolls, jointed dolls, china dolls—all kinds to choose from.

The small plain doll as low as 10c up to the largest size ones that cost $6.00—with hundreds that sell for in-between prices.

And then there's the china heads and bisque heads to make dolly complete again. And the patent leather shoes, in all sizes, for 10c the pair—every doll needs at LEAST one pair.

Every purse can find just the doll it wants and no matter how much you elect to spend you'll get the best values.

For the children there is nothing more appropriate than a doll, and every one of the little girls are looking forward to getting one or more for Christmas.

We show this season the new character dolls from Germany, an innovation in doll making in that they actually represent faces in a most realistic manner.

NORMAL ATTENDANCE 160 ON TUESDAY

The first meeting of the Christian associations were held this morning, led by their respective presidents.

At the Y. M. C. A. delegates were chosen to attend the state association of the Y. M. C. A. to be held at Kansas City, December 9, 10 and 11. The faculty member chosen was Prof. Cameron, while Mr. Mathes represents the student body.

Some four or five new rooms have been completed and turned over for use to the different departments.

Prof. Cameron is absent from classes today. He has gone to Skidmore to represent the Normal in a corn show which is being held at that place.

Thursday's attendance has reached one hundred and sixty, as reported about noon. There is already considerable increase in the Normal as compared with the attendance a year ago.

I have 4 pianos, perfect condition, fully guaranteed, late improvements, recognized by best homes and schools in city, must close out this week. Most any price and most any terms. Don't want to ship. Phone or write L. F. Freeman, Ream hotel, by Dec. 12, 13, 1910. OLNEY MUSIC CO. St. Joseph, Mo.

Mrs. Lon Fine, Miss Ethel Alexander and Mrs. Nellie Mustain of Pickering were shopping in Maryville Thursday.

WRITES OF HIS TRIP TAKEN TO HOPKINS

November 28.—Editor Democrat-Forum: I hope a few remarks of our meanderings over terra firma will not come amiss to some of the readers of your valuable paper. First, I would say we left over the Burlington railroad for Hopkins, our objective point being eight and three-quarter miles northeast of that thriving city, which is set on the edge of a hill, so her light may shine afar off, and would say that we passed over the ground some forty-three years before any railroad or city was thought of, so far as we know. The railroad was built in 1869. There have been many changes in the country since our first visit through the north and northeast side of the county. The broad fertile prairie was as nature made it, and what few houses there were were built along streams handy to wood and water, as most of our early pioneers came from timbered states, but today the country affords as varied and charming a prospect to the eye and taste as the heart could wish for. Here and there are built fine stately mansions, which have taken the place of the rudely constructed houses, and almost every quarter section, which contained nothing but the grass of nature, is now dotted with fine structures, and we have the promise that seed time and harvest will never fail. And it is fully verified this year. The almost bursting bins of corn can be seen on every hand, and the fine fields of growing wheat are all that could be wished for.

We found upon inquiry that many of our old acquaintances had passed over the divide and joined the silent majority on the golden shore, and but few of the old-timers are left to see the change that time has wrought. Having completed the work we went to do (mostly the working of our jaws), we retraced our steps homeward, stopping all night with Dr. Large, mine host of the Linville hotel of Hopkins, who is much of a gentleman, and he treated us kindly. We turned in wooing tired nature's sweet restorer, "sleep, balmy sleep," and calmly and placidly, in dreamy quietude, slept the slumberous hours away. The next morning we took passage on the Burlington, arriving at 8 a. m. in the finest city in the best county of the best state of the Union. The Lord made, in His great wisdom, have made a better county than the kingdom of Nodaway, but we have grave doubts if he did. ON THE WING.

The book is re-covered with buckskin. The deer that furnished the cover was probably killed by some of the Lincolns, as a bullet hole, presumably such, appears on the back of the cover. The printing is plain and the definitions to the words are given in English and Hebrew. There is no date showing the year of publication.

Mrs. Glass also has on display at the bazaar a bed spread made by her grandmother that is over 100 years old.

THE DICTIONARY LINCOLN USED

In the antique room at the Christian ladies' bazaar, the old English dictionary that was once used by Abraham Lincoln is displayed by W. W. Glass, who has had the book in his possession for thirty-one years. The dictionary came to Mr. Glass in a peculiar manner.

Forty years ago Mr. Glass lived on a farm in Sangamon county, Illinois, adjoining the one on which Robert Lincoln, the uncle of Abraham Lincoln, lived. Robert Lincoln had been dead many years, but his three bachelor sons and two maiden daughters lived there, and he knew them well. Thirty-one years ago Mr. and Mrs. Glass bought a farm just north of the Lincolns, of Pearson Freeman, an old bachelor friend of the Lincolns.

In cleaning the garret of the Freeman house, which was built of logs, Mr. and Mrs. Glass found an old English dictionary, among other books, that shows evidence of having been the property of the great Lincoln and his father and grandfather. The writing is so faded on the inside of the cover of the book, whose leaves are yellowed with age, that only a little is discernable. The first name is "Lincoln, year of our Lord 1772." The second is written below in plain writing, "A. Abraham Lincoln—1795."

It is supposed that Pearson Freeman and his friends, the Lincolns, exchanged books in reading, which would account for its presence in the house of Freeman.

The book is re-covered with buckskin. The deer that furnished the cover was probably killed by some of the Lincolns, as a bullet hole, presumably such, appears on the back of the cover. The printing is plain and the definitions to the words are given in English and Hebrew. There is no date showing the year of publication.

Mrs. Glass also has on display at the bazaar a bed spread made by her grandmother that is over 100 years old.

Electric Bitters
Succeed when everything else fails. In nervous prostration and female weaknesses they are the supreme remedy, as thousands have testified. FOR KIDNEY, LIVER AND STOMACH TROUBLE it is the best medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter.
